Community Investment Tax Credit
Learn how the new Community Investment Tax Credit helps you and helps the Fenway Community Development Corporation. www.fenwaycdc.org

What is Community Investment Tax Credit (CITC)?
CITC is a Massachusetts state tax credit designed to attract donors and community partners to support high-impact community development corporations.

Who Can Participate?
Businesses, for-profit corporations, individuals, non-profit organizations, and foundations can all participate. Out of state donors can also participate.

Why Participate?
Benefits for donors:
You will receive 50% of your donation refund through state tax credits. You also receive federal tax-deduction for the balance of your charitable gift.*

Benefits for Fenway CDC:
Your support enables Fenway CDC to improve the economic and social well-being of over 1,000 low- and moderate-income people in the Fenway and Boston.

Housing Development and Preservation
♦ Safe and affordable homes for residents
♦ Housing counseling for at-risk residents

Workforce Development Program and Education
♦ Career counseling and support services for job-readiness, skills training, and job placements
♦ Counseling and referral for education and ESL
♦ Life skills and self-sufficiency training

Economic Development
♦ Financial-literacy and home-buying workshops for Boston residents
♦ Partnerships with institutions and businesses to provide job opportunities for residents

Resident Services
♦ Social support services for vulnerable residents
♦ Health-improvement and cultural programs to improve the well-being of residents

Community Planning and Organizing
♦ Advancing a grassroots vision for a sustainable, smart-growth Fenway that addresses housing, institutional impact, transportation, access, open space, and arts and culture
♦ Civic engagement and service-learning opportunities
♦ Tenant-landlord training, counseling, and support to improve living conditions of at-risk residents

When Can You Participate?
Make a donation to Fenway CDC before December 31 to receive community investment tax credits.

How to Participate?
Your CITC-eligible donation can take several forms. In particular, event sponsorship provides an excellent opportunity for increased recognition.
1. Fenway Ball gala - June 15, 2017
2. Taste of the Fenway - September 7, 2017
3. Fen-tastic Fest - November 8, 2017
4. Direct donation (let us know your intent)

How Does CITC Program Work?
Simple Steps:
1. Make a donation of $1,000 or more to Fenway CDC.
2. Let Fenway CDC know your intent and access a CITC form: http://hed-citc.azurewebsites.net/login.aspx
4. DHCD will mail you an interim CITC certificate number. Submit that number when you file taxes.
5. Tax credits will be applied to reduce your next payable taxes. If your tax credits exceed your tax liability, Department of Revenue will mail you a refund for the difference. If you do not have tax liability, DOR will mail you a refund check for the tax credits. Yes! You receive money.

* Please consult your tax advisor as federal tax-deduction percentage varies case by case.

Sharing Our Success Stories....
Thank You for Supporting Fenway CDC!

Amy & her daughter Mia apple picking

"I thank Fenway CDC for providing us a place we call 'Home'. No matter what issues arise, the staff provides us support services to fit our needs." - Amy Voltero

Formerly homeless, jobless, and drug-addicted, today Amy is a successful and healthy working single mother. She is supporting her 6 year old daughter and a champion in our hearts!

Emma Muthemba is a single mother with two sons, ages 10 and 17. Through Fenway CDC’s Resident Services and Workforce Development Program, she successfully graduated from Roxbury Community College in May 2015 in Radiology Technology.

She is currently studying at American Registry of Radiologic Technologists and working at the Boston Health Center as a Nursing Assistant.

We are proud of her accomplishments!

"I thank Fenway CDC for helping me to get a full-time job and advance my education. I worked at Boston Children's Hospital for several years, and now I'm doing a full-time graduate degree at Cambridge College to fulfil my dream to be a Licensed Mental Health Counselor." - Dale Adda Smith
